STIPULATED CONFIDENTIALITY PROTECTIVE ORDER

WHEREAS, parties and non-parties to this action (“Litigation”), have been or may be requested in the course of discovery or other proceedings to produce or disclose testimony, documents, or other information (“Discovery Material”) that they consider private, confidential, or proprietary; and

WHEREAS, named Defendants CareHere; CareHere Management, PLLC; CareHere, LLC; CareHere A Premise Health Company; Premise Health; Premise Health Holding Corp.; and Premise Health Enterprise Solutions’ (“Defendants”),¹ by and through their counsel, and Plaintiff Jennifer Campos (“Plaintiff”) have agreed, by their undersigned attorneys, to set forth procedures for, and rules governing, the use of such Discovery Material;

1. IT IS ORDERED that all Discovery Material produced, or depositions taken in discovery in the Litigation, shall be used solely for purposes of the Litigation and for no other purpose. If, in the course of discovery or other proceedings in this action, Defendants or Plaintiff or any party to the Litigation, or any third party discloses Discovery Material they deem private, confidential, or proprietary, the producing entity may designate such Discovery Material as “Confidential.” Discovery Material designated as “Confidential,” and all copies, summaries, or extracts thereof, shall be referred to herein as “Confidential Material,” and shall be subject to all the terms of this Stipulated Confidentiality Protective Order (“Order”).

¹ Named Defendants “CareHere”; “CareHere A Premise Health Company”; “Premise Health”; and “Premise Health Enterprise Solutions” maintain that they are not actual legal entities that under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b), have capacity to be sued, and thus cannot be properly served with Plaintiff’s Summons and First Amended Complaint. Rather, Defendants maintain that “CareHere”; CareHere A Premise Health Company and Premise Health are commonly used references to or common names of Defendants CareHere Management, PLLC and Premise Health Holding Corp.

2. Documents may be designated “Confidential” by stamping each page of the document as “Confidential.” Deposition testimony may be designated “Confidential” by so indicating orally on the record during the deposition, or by subsequent designation in writing by the deponent or his/her attorney, or an attorney for any party. The designated pages of the transcript of any such deposition shall be marked by the court reporter with the appropriate legend.

3. Any person in possession of Discovery Material shall maintain it in a reasonable and appropriate manner so as to avoid disclosure of its contents in any manner not permitted by this Order.

4. Confidential Material shall not be disclosed, except as provided in paragraphs 5 and 6 below, except upon prior written consent of the designating party.

5. Confidential Material may be disclosed only to the extent reasonably necessary for the conduct of the Litigation and only to the following:

- (a) the Court (including any appellate court) and Court personnel;
- (b) court reporters in connection with the taking of a deposition or the transcription of court proceedings;
- (c) attorneys (including in-house and outside counsel) of the parties to the Litigation (or the corporate parent of a party to the Litigation) and such attorneys' employees;

- (d) parties to the Litigation and their officers, directors, trustees, and employees;
- (e) the creator and addressees of such Confidential Material and persons who received a copy thereof prior to its production in the Litigation;
- (f) anticipated and actual fact witnesses other than the parties to the Litigation, provided that counsel has a good-faith basis to disclose such information to such witness; and
- (g) experts, advisors, mediators, consultants, and other persons engaged to assist directly in the Litigation.

6. With respect to persons specified in paragraph 5(f) and (g) above, such counsel shall obtain that person's written agreement to be bound by the terms of this Order. With respect to persons specified in paragraph 5(f) and (g) above, any testimony concerning Confidential Material shall itself be deemed Confidential Material. The requirement of obtaining written agreement may be satisfied by obtaining the signature of such person at the foot of a copy of this Order to such person. A person's written agreement to be bound by the terms of this Order is also an agreement to submit to the jurisdiction of the Court solely for purposes of enforcing this Order. Counsel of record for each of the parties to the Litigation shall maintain a file of executed agreements, and such file shall be made available for inspection by counsel for any person claiming confidentiality upon order of the Court following a showing of good cause.

7. In the event that counsel for any signatory to this Order at any time believes that Confidential Material should cease to be so designated, such counsel shall so notify counsel for the designating party. Counsel for the challenging and designating parties shall confer in good faith within ten business days of such notification in an effort to resolve the matter by agreement. If agreement is not reached within ten business days thereafter, the challenging party shall have the burden of moving and may move upon proper notice within thirty days to obtain an appropriate order. In the event that such a motion is made, any disputed Discovery Material shall remain subject to and protected by this Order until such motion is resolved.

9. Compliance with the terms of the Order shall not be deemed an admission that any Discovery Material is not otherwise protected from disclosure or admissible in evidence and shall not constitute a waiver of the right of any person to object to the production of any Discovery Material for any reason whatsoever.

10. This Order shall have no effect upon a designating party's use of its own Confidential Material.

11. The inadvertent failure to designate Discovery Material as Confidential shall be corrected by supplemental written notice to the receiving party as soon as practicable, and the receiving party shall make all reasonable efforts to retrieve all copies, if any, of such documents disclosed to persons other than those listed in paragraph 5 hereof and to prevent further use or disclosure of Confidential information contained therein by such persons.

12. The production of privileged or work-product protected documents, electronically stored information (“ESI”) or other information, whether inadvertent or otherwise, is not a waiver of the privilege or protection from discovery in this case or in any other federal or state proceeding. This Order shall be interpreted to provide the maximum protection allowed by Federal Rule of Evidence 502(d). Nothing contained herein is intended to or shall serve to limit a party’s right to conduct a review of documents, ESI or information (including metadata) for relevance, responsiveness and/or segregation of privileged and/or protected information before production. Any Discovery Material so produced and subsequently made subject to a claim of privilege or work-product shall immediately be returned to the producing person, and all copies or summaries thereof immediately destroyed, and such Discovery Material shall not be introduced into evidence in this or any other proceeding by any person or order of the Court, nor will such Discovery Material be subject to production in any other proceeding by virtue of the fact that it was inadvertently produced in this proceeding. The production of any Discovery Material in this action, which, absent such production, would have been in whole or in part privileged under the attorney-client privilege or the work-product doctrine, will not waive the attorney-client privilege or the work-product doctrine as to any material not produced, regardless of its subject matter.

13. If any person in possession of Confidential Material is served with any legal process or other request seeking production of such material, such person shall give the designating party (a) prompt written notice of the receipt of such request; (b) a copy of any proposed response to such request at least two business days prior to furnishing such response; and (c) written notice of any hearing or other proceeding relating to such request at least five business days prior to such hearing or other proceeding (unless such person receives less than five business days' notice, in which event notice shall be given the same day as such person receives notice). Nothing herein shall be construed as requiring the person served with any legal process or other request seeking production of any Discovery Material to refuse to comply with its legal obligations regarding such process or request.

14. Nothing in this Order shall be deemed in any way to restrict the use of Discovery Material that is publicly available or has been or could be legally obtained independent of formal discovery in the Litigation, whether or not the same material has also been obtained through formal discovery in the Litigation.

15. To the extent that there is any conflict between the terms of this Order and rules of the Court, the rules of the Court will govern.

16. Upon request of the designating party, and following the termination of this action and any related proceedings and appeals, any person in possession of

Confidential Material shall either (1) return such material to counsel for the designating party; or (2) certify to counsel for the designating party that all such material and copies, summaries, and extracts thereof have been destroyed, provided, however, that the signatories to this Order and their counsel may retain copies of attorney work-product and briefs, pleadings, and other papers filed with or sent to the Court that incorporate, append, or refer to such material, with such papers remaining subject to the terms and conditions of this Order.

17. In the event that any person shall violate or threaten to violate any of the terms of the Order, the aggrieved party may seek an appropriate remedy from the Court, and no signatory to this Order shall raise as a defense to a request for injunctive relief that the aggrieved party possesses an adequate remedy at law.

18. The terms of this Order shall be effective and the parties and their counsel shall be bound by the terms of this Order on the date the Order is signed by the parties' counsel.

19. The terms of this Order shall not terminate at the conclusion of the Litigation.

20. Prior to the time this Order is entered by the Court, Confidential Material shall be subject to the terms of this Order to the same extent as though the Order has been entered by the Court.

21. Filing Protected Documents. In the event that documents designated as Confidential are filed, they are to be sealed in accordance with the applicable court rules. If such documents contain the names of Defendants' current or former employees and applicants (other than Plaintiff) and are allowed to be filed in the public record, the names shall be redacted to their initials to protect the privacy of those individuals. Home addresses, phone numbers, driver's license numbers, social security numbers, medical/health information, and other identifying or sensitive information of such persons will also be redacted.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
